SOUTH'S GREAT

SOUTHERN CITY DOES MORE BUSINESS IN WHOLESALE LINES THAN ANY OTHER CITY ITS SIZE IN GOUNTRY.

In this era of the South's most wonderful industrial and commercial development, there is probably no more striking evidence of what Southern enterprise and energy can accomplish than is furnished by the wonderful growth of Lynchburg. Va., as a wholesale market for distribution of merchandise.

Fifteen years ago Lynchburg was comparatively unknown as a wholesale market, except in the territory immediately contiguous to it. At that time her wholesale and manufacturing houses were few, and the number of salesmen sent out was insignificant compared with the army of three or four hundred intelligent and representative men who now distribute Lynchburg merchandise through every Southern State. There are now seventy-five firms in Lynchburg selling merchandise at wholesale, in successful competition with the largest and closest markets of the country. Within her limits are fifty manufacturing plants, with a diversity of interests, covering forty-five different articles of manufacture.

Lynchburg enolys the unique distinction of selling more goods at wholesale than any market in the United States in provention to the newaltion and in fact, in of this city. He was bound over to coord and held in default of a $200 bond. Just before the Carnival Company left the city at 3 o'clock this morning, for Monroe, N. C., the train conductor found Jose and the girl secreted in the corner

THE NAVY

Interesting Report of Rear-Admiral Bowles.

THE NORFOLK NAVY-YARD

Recommendation is Made that it Be Kept in Well-Equipped Cordition. Department to Have Chris-

anthemum Shows

The Times-Dispatch Bureau. No. 1417 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., Oct. 28. One of the most interesting of the government reports this year is that Rear Admiral Bowles, chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair, Navy Department, which was made public to-The report shows that in the past year there have been added to the navy one battleship, four monitors, twelve torpedo boat destroyers, one torpedo boat

Admiral Bowles says that in addition class battleships, eight armored cruisers,

Most interesting, perhaps, is that portion of the report dealing with the present actual strength of the navy. Admiral Bowles gives the following list of vessels fit for service, including those now being repaired; ten first class battleships, one second class battleship, two armored critisers, one armored ram, four single turret harbor defense monitors, six double turret monitors, fourteen protected cruisers, three unprotected cruisers, twelve gunboats, three light draft gunboats, six composite gunboats, training ships (Naval Academy) sheathed, special class (Dolphin and Vesuvius) two; gunboats under 500 tons, twenty-one; torpedo boats, deght; wooden torpedo boats, eight; wooden torpedo boats, one; fron cruising vessels (steam), five; wooden croising vessels (steam), five; wooden sailing vessels, four; tugs, thirty-nine; submittierv cruisers, five; converted yachts, twenty-three; colliers, sixteen; supply shirs one hospital ships, fourteen.

The total is two hundred and fifty-two vossels. Twenty-three vessels, in addition to these, are placed as unfit for service. The nublic will not be so greatly struck with the size of the navy as with the great additions which will be made within the next two or three years.

NORFOLK YARD.

With regard to the Norfolk navy yard, Admiral Bowles says: "Being located on Hampton Roads, where large fleets must of necessity rendezvous, this yard should unquestionably be equipped as one of the foremost yards of the coontry. Recently the first class battleshin Illinois came to and left the yard without difficulty. This would appear to settle the question of sufficient depth of channel."

Another interesting report made public in that of General H. T. Allen to the Bureau of Insular Affairs, War Department, on conditions that have obtained in the Philippines during the past year. General Allen is chief of the Philippine commission. The report says that twenty-nine active componies of securits have been reconstrabled on the philippine commission. The report says that twenty-nine active componies of securits have been

General Allen is chief of the Philippine commis-cion. The report says that twenty-nine native companies of scouts have been turned over to the civil governor, under the chief of the constabulary. The most interesting portion of the report is that which refers to disturb-ances in the island, nearly all of which were of a religious nature, and of which the outside world hears but little. It seems very evident from the ease with which religious impostors succeed in cre-ating disturbances that the Americans must be prepared for trouble of this kind for some years to come.

The Missionary Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church will open to-morrow morning in this city, with a public service in the Church of the Epiphany. The sessons of the council will continue Many bishops who were here in attendance on the Pan-American Congress of American Bishops, which adjourned Saturday, will be pres-ent at the sessions of the council, which will be composed of eminent clergy and laymen from all sections of the coun-try. Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller "" preside at one or more of the ses-sions.

The visiting bishops were guests at a reception at the Corcoran Art Gollery this afternoon. Nearly every man of distinction in Washington called.
